PROPORTION OF BUSINESS DONE: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, by "proportion of business done" is meant the proportion that the business for the Census year ending June 30, 1885, of the establishments considered, bore to the greatest capacity for production. Of the 23,431 establishments in the Commonwealth, only 2,537, or 10.83 per cent, made return of proportion of business done, but an examination will show that they are well distributed among the different industries and may be accepted as fairly indicative. For a fuller consideration of the subject, see the "ANALYSIS." Greatest capacity, or maximum production, has been considered as 100 per cent, and the "percentages" given indicate the proportion on the basis stated. "Not stated" includes those establishments making no return for proportion of business done during the Census year.]

THE BUSY SEASON: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, in the first two columns are given, for each industry, first, the total number of establishments in each industry, and second, the number of establishments that stated the months which constituted their "busy season." In the twelve columns headed with the names of the months are figures which indicate the number of establishments reporting their busy season as occurring in the months specified. For instance, in the industry "Boots and Shoes" there are, in the State, 2,366 establishments of which 974 stated the months constituting their busy season. Of these 974 establishments 501 were busy in January, 576 in February, 630 in March, 608 in September, etc.]

THE BUSY SEASON: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, in the first two columns are given, for each industry, first, the total number of establishments in each industry, and second, the number of establishments that stated the months which constituted their "busy season." In the twelve columns headed with the names of the months are figures which indicate the number of establishments reporting their busy season as occurring in the months specified. For instance, in the industry "Boots and Shoes" there are, in the State, 2,366 establishments of which 974 stated the months constituting their busy season. Of these 974 establishments 501 were busy in January, 576 in February, 630 in March, 608 in September, etc.]

BUILDING PLANT: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, a condensed classification has been made of the various kinds of buildings, etc., in which the manufacturing and mechanical industries of the Commonwealth were reported as being carried on. The classification of building plant covers not only entire business buildings such as factories, mills, works, and workshops, but parts of buildings such as cellars and vaults, floors, rooms, etc. In a number of cases the parties carrying on manufacturing or mechanical industries have "no shop," while others are located in barns and stables, dwelling-houses, stores, on vessels or wharves, in yards, or are proprietors of foundries and forges, kilns, and quarries. Buildings (not specified as to kind), houses (not dwelling-houses), and sheds are used for storage purposes or for carrying on in separate buildings various branches of manufacturing and mechanical industries.]

BUILDING PLANT : BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, a condensed classification has been made of the various kinds of buildings, etc., in which the manufacturing and mechanical industries of the Commonwealth were reported as being carried on. The classification of building plant covers not only entire business buildings such as factories, mills, works, and workshops, but parts of buildings such as cellars and vaults, floors, rooms, etc. In a number of cases the parties carrying on manufacturing or mechanical industries have "no shop," while others are located in barns and stables, dwelling-houses, stores, on vessels or wharves, in yards, or are proprietors of foundries and forges, kilns, and quarries. Buildings (not specified as to kind), houses (not dwelling-houses), and sheds are used for storage purposes or for carrying on in separate buildings various branches of manufacturing and mechanical industries.]

MOTIVE POWER: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In some respects, the statistics of motive power given in this presentation are incomplete. The reasons therefor are apparent. Those manufacturing and mechanical establishments having steam engines or boilers on their own premises made returns for the same, but those establishments using "hired power," naturally, were unable to make returns. In those cases where the parties supplying power were engaged in manufactures full returns were made, but in those cases where the parties furnishing power were engaged in trade, etc., or furnished power as a business, it is not certain that returns were made. Consequently, the steam power actually used in manufactures is undoubtedly greater than as given in this presentation. The number of persons running machinery by hand or foot power is probably largely understated. The number of establishments reporting the use of "hired power" is shown by industries in the second part of this presentation. Owing to the number of columns used in the first part of this presentation it has been found necessary to extend the column headings, for each section of industries, across three pages. The first section ends with the industry "Flax, Hemp, and Jute Goods," and the second section begins with the industry "Food Preparations."]

MOTIVE POWER: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In some respects, the statistics of motive power given in this presentation are incomplete. The reasons therefor are apparent. Those manufacturing and mechanical establishments having steam engines or boilers on their own premises made returns for the same, but those establishments using "hired power," naturally, were unable to make returns. In those cases where the parties supplying power were engaged in manufactures full returns were made, but in those cases where the parties furnishing power were engaged in trade, etc., or furnished power as a business, it is not certain that returns were made. Consequently, the steam power actually used in manufactures is undoubtedly greater than as given in this presentation. The number of persons running machinery by hand or foot power is probably largely understated. The number of establishments reporting the use of "hired power" is shown by industries in the second part of this presentation. Owing to the number of columns used in the first part of this presentation it has been found necessary to extend the column headings, for each section of industries, across three pages. The first section ends with the industry "Flax, Hemp, and Jute Goods," and the second section begins with the industry "Food Preparations."]

MOTIVE POWER: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In some respects, the statistics of motive power given in this presentation are incomplete. The reasons therefor are apparent. Those manufacturing and mechanical establishments having steam engines or boilers on their own premises made returns for the same, but those establishments using "hired power," naturally, were unable to make returns. In those cases where the parties supplying power were engaged in manufactures full returns were made, but in those cases where the parties furnishing power were engaged in trade, etc., or furnished power as a business, it is not certain that returns were made. Consequently, the steam power actually used in manufactures is undoubtedly greater than as given in this presentation. The number of persons running machinery by hand or foot power is probably largely understated. The number of establishments reporting the use of "hired power" is shown by industries in the second part of this presentation. Owing to the number of columns used in the first part of this presentation it has been found necessary to extend the column headings, for each section of industries, across three pages. The first section ends with the industry "Flax, Hemp, and Jute Goods," and the second section begins with the industry "Food Preparations."]

MACHINERY: BY INDUSTRIES.

VALUES OF HOME MANUFACTURED AND IMPORTED MACHINERY.

[In this presentation, the values given are cost values, even though the machinery may have deteriorated in value since its purchase. They are so divided as to show the respective values of machines of home and of foreign manufacture. The figures representing the value of imported machinery need not, necessarily, appear in both columns devoted to imported machinery. Machines of foreign manufacture may have been imported previous to the ten years ending June 30, 1885, or foreign machines so imported may have been destroyed by fire, become unfit for use, or may have been sold or exchanged for machinery of domestic manufacture.]

MACHINERY: BY INDUSTRIES — Concluded.

MACHINERY FOR COTTON, WOOLLEN, AND WORSTED GOODS, PAPER, ETC.

[In this presentation, those industries making no return of spindles, sets of machinery, looms, etc., have been omitted. All such specified machinery was returned and is included, whether the mills were reported as being in operation or not during the Census year. Many establishments classified under the industry heads covering cotton, woollen, and worsted goods, paper, etc., did not make return of the kinds of machinery specified in this presentation, being engaged in the manufacture of such articles as waste, shoddy, envelopes, etc., in which manufacture such machines are not used. Owing to the fact that in establishments engaged in the textile industries machinery of various kinds is used, a descriptive column is given in which the machinery for each industry is classified. The aggregates for spindles, sets of machinery, and looms are greater than in the presentation "MACHINERY: BY TOWNS," for in this presentation the spindles, sets of machinery, etc., used in the industries "Buttons and Dress Trimmings," "Carpetings," "Clothing," "Cordage and Twine," "Cotton, Woollen, and Other Textiles," "Flax, Hemp, and Jute Goods," "Hose: Rubber, Linen, etc.," "Hosiery and Knit Goods," "Leather," "Linen," "Mixed Textiles," "Rubber and Elastic Goods," and "Silk and Silk Goods," have been added.]

ACCIDENTS: BY INDUSTRIES.

[The figures given in this presentation relate to the year ending June 30, 1885. The number of deaths from accidents and the number of persons permanently disabled by accidents were called for. ## COMBUSTIBLE VALUES: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, the assessors' valuation of real property is not shown. Instead is given the combustible value, or the amount that would be claimed from an insurance company to replace the buildings, fixtures, stock on hand, etc., if destroyed by fire. The combustible values herein shown include the value of buildings used for manufacturing purposes, the value of fixtures, machinery, and implements and tools, the value of the average amount of stock on hand (raw and in process of manufacture), and the value of the average amount of manufactured goods on hand or completed work done.]

LOSSES BY FIRE: BY INDUSTRIES.

NUMBER OF FIRES, VALUE OF PROPERTY DESTROYED, ETC.

[In this table, the industries not reporting losses by fire, at any time since the private firms and corporations included in them were established, have been omitted. It should be borne in mind, when considering the figures given, that the losses reported were all caused by fires in manufacturing and mechanical establishments, no returns having been made of losses by fire in dwelling-houses or shops and stores used for trade, etc. For a further consideration of this table, see the "ANALYSIS."]

CAUSES OF FIRES.

[In this table, the figures given opposite each industry, under the various column headings which specify the causes of fires, indicate the number of establishments reporting fires as having been caused in the ways specified since the firms and corporations considered were established. Those industries not reporting losses by fire have been omitted. For a further consideration of this table, see the "ANALYSIS."]

INFLAMMABLE MATERIALS.

[In this table, the figures given opposite each industry, under the various column headings which specify certain inflammable materials, indicate the number of instances in which the inflammable materials specified were reported as having been used in the industries named. The same establishment, in some cases, reported the use of two or more inflammable materials, thus leading to duplications, etc., as regards establishments. Those industries not reporting the use of inflammable materials have been omitted. For a further consideration of this table, see the "ANALYSIS."]

INFLAMMABLE MATERIALS.

[In this table, the figures given opposite each industry, under the various column headings which specify certain inflammable materials, indicate the number of instances in which the inflammable materials specified were reported as having been used in the industries named. The same establishment, in some cases, reported the use of two or more inflammable materials, thus leading to duplications, etc., as regards establishments. Those industries not reporting the use of inflammable materials have been omitted. For a further consideration of this table, see the "ANALYSIS."]

DISTRIBUTION OF PRODUCT; OR, MANNER OF SELLING GOODS: BY INDUSTRIES.

[This presentation shows the distribution of product, or the manner of selling goods, in 6,627 out of a total of 23,431 establishments. Although the returns cover but 28.28 per cent of the whole number, yet they represent the larger establishments engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries, and the manner of distribution, as regards sales, of the majority of the manufactured products of the Commonwealth. The word "factory" includes mill, workshop, etc.]

TERMS OF CREDIT ON PURCHASES AND SALES: BY INDUSTRIES.

[The first presentation shows the terms of credit, as regards purchases, for 8,077 establishments out of a total of 23,431 establishments, and, as regards sales, for 7,123 establishments out of a total of 23,431 establishments. Although the returns cover but 34.47 per cent of the whole number in the case of Purchases, and 30.40 per cent in the case of Sales, yet they represent the larger establishments engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries, and indicate the terms of credit, as regards buying and selling, for the majority of the manufactured products of the Commonwealth. "Not stated" includes those establishments not making any return whatever as to terms of credit on either purchases or sales.

The second presentation shows the "Related Terms of Credit on Purchases and Sales: By Industries," that is, the number of establishments, as regards each industry, that both buy and sell on 30 days, that buy on 30 and sell on 60 days, that buy on 90 and sell on 60 days, etc., as the case may be.

The first presentation gives the number of establishments buying on specified terms of credit or selling on specified terms of credit, without regard to any relation of the terms on buying and selling for the same establishment, or for any aggregation of establishments buying and selling on similar terms of credit. The second presentation goes farther, and shows the related terms of credit on purchases and sales, by giving for each establishment, either singly or by aggregations, the terms of credit on "Sales" as related to, and supplying, therefore, a comparison with, the terms of credit on "Purchases."]

GENERAL STATISTICS OF MANUFACTURES FOR PRIVATE FIRMS AND CORPORATIONS: BY INDUSTRIES.

The designation, an asterisk and dash (*—), indicates that figures have been intentionally omitted in industry presentations in order to avoid disclosing the facts concerning individual establishments. These figures are, however, included in the totals for "ALL INDUSTRIES."]

GENERAL STATISTICS OF MANUFACTURES FOR PRIVATE FIRMS AND CORPORATIONS : BY INDUSTRIES.

The designation, an asterisk and dash (*—), indicates that figures have been intentionally omitted in industry presentations in order to avoid disclosing the facts concerning individual establishments. These figures are, however, included in the totals for "ALL INDUSTRIES."]

GENERAL STATISTICS OF MANUFACTURES

FOR ### CITIES AND TOWNS: BY SELECTED INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, the general statistics of manufactures, which include the information relating to Number of Establishments, Number of Partners and Stockholders, Amount of Capital Invested, Value of Stock Used, Value of Goods Made and Work Done, Number of Persons Employed, and Total Wages Paid, are brought forward, by totals, for fifteen selected industries, which industries represent more than four-fifths of the total product of manufacturing and mechanical industries in the Commonwealth. Under each of these selected industry heads are presented the general statistics of manufactures for those cities and towns in which the specified industry is carried on to a large extent. In the consideration of the table, or in its use for purposes of comparison, reference should be made to the explanatory pages, head-notes, and foot-notes of the various town and industry presentations, and also to the "ANALYSIS."]
